

TheSPSMUNNanza

15/11/2014

The Saga Adjourns

TIME FOR A CHANGE

Mrudul Madaan comments on joining hands for a 'New Era'

The last day of the SPSMUN started with all the delegates in anticipation of the draft resolution. The working papers had been submitted the day before and it was time for everybody to voice their concerns. This was a time for a new beginning for the world, for all those who wished to bring a change in this world and for every one who had faith in humanity.

Firstly, the embassies decided to be sympathetic for all those who had lost their lives in armed conflicts. The people all over the world had gone through a lot of pain and hatred. It was time to stand up for humanity to make this world a better place to live in; after all everyone is striving for global peace.

The Mindset Ready to Change the World

Divya Garg reports the final results to Somalian piracy in SPSMUN'14

The third day started on a slow note with the delegates deeply lost in their thoughts and worried about their draft resolution. Initially moderated caucus was entertained on the topic 'Financial management in Somalia'. The countries tried their best to take decisions in their favour. Finally two draft resolutions headed by USA and Korea were framed. Draft resolution by USA suggested the usage of GPS and smart container technologies which were interrogated upon but later agreed. Certain amendments were made changing GPS by Radars. The second resolution mainly focused on education and increase in revenue collection for better youth and decrease in piracy. It was immense pleasure discussing and finding a solution to Somalian piracy.

The Concluding Day

Jahnvi Katyal reports about the socio-economic problems of the world.

The proceedings of the conference resumed with deliberations on the pending matters of the previous day. The conference commenced with the discussions on the draft resolutions. The Executive Board interrogated the delegates. After the breakfast, the second draft resolution was discussed. The delegates told the Executive Board via chits that the clauses were made without their consent. So, the second draft resolution was scrapped off. The conference resulted in many viable plans and programs for the problems under focus. The enthusiasm and commitment of all delegates towards providing a meaningful contribution promised a successful implementation of the ideas and plans resulting from the deliberations. The conference concluded with the decision to have timely meetings in order to assure that the plans have been put in practice and are progressing at the desired pace.

The Beginning, Not the End

-Tamanna Singhal reports on the Security Council

“The world is yours to change, bring in peace before it’s out of range.” As the global issues providing peace and to enhance security in Arctic were plunged onto the debate the committee soon gathered up heat!

While the allegations were in blown horns, the moderated and un-moderated caucuses discussed issues ranging from problems faced by UN peace keeping operations, humanitarian rights of the people in the Arctic and the conflicts. “It is extremely important to introduce peacekeeping reforms as there are a number of loopholes in the current framework.” said the delegate of USA.

SPS MUN was a great success. This journey has been a memorable one!

The Master Strokes of the Arabs

Pranvi Singh comments on the irrefutable victory of the JCC Arab Cabinet in The Third Arab-Israeli War of 1967...

On the third and final day of SPS MUN'14, the ambassadors of Arab countries were informed

NO COMPROMISE

Aditi Jain explores the third day of the conference in the midst of warfare of the Israel Cabinet.

The last day rung the bells of the ambassadors and then a high alert settled in the premises. A directive was made to which the Minister of Defense responded, "The directive is like a blunt pencil, completely pointless."

A letter was sent to the US president, Mr. Johnson demanding no further attacks from the Arab nations. The cabinet pondered upon the question of compromise of their troops from the Syrian border and a common consensus was reached of no compromise on the Israeli military.

that the timeline had again moved forward and the day was 19 May 1967. They were in a state of war. All the countries disseminated that they had declared emergencies in their countries and most of them blocked the radio outputs so that the enemy could not track their plans. The ministers formulated war strategies. An update informed the assembly of Israel having internal disputes and the Arabians waged the battle for throttle. After an intense day of planning, plotting, profanities and discussions the three day MUN concluded with the Arab Cabinet's triumph in war.

The International Press keeps its pens down for the last time after experiencing 3 fruitful days of war and debates.

From the editors

DEKH BHAI, TEDHA HAI PAR MERA HAI

“Kaun kambhaqt jitney k liye debate karta hai; hum karte hai debate SPSMUN mei aane k liye...”

- SPSMUN-okia connecting people:

There had not been a group where our super talented juniors hadn't spammed up!

- Hi-s-tory:

Our DG – Hamare pyare “Ronak bhaiya” agle saal “Sec-Gen” bnenge for “various reasons.”

- Women-Empowerment:

Our Sec-gen ‘Harry Potter’ “A political nerd” played an active role to get in girls to the delegation lists.

- In big-big cities these small-small things keep on happening:

Sachdevian's Social profiles studded with SPS MUN updates.

- Pehle pet puja phir kaam duja:

The most overrated posts- “Lunch menu.”

- Mirror-mirror on the wall; do I look fine or did my style statement fall? :

People were more considerate about the photographer crew rather than who is chairing them!

IP faculty Head: Chitra Malhotra

IP head: Pallavi Prasad

Editors: Dev Chopra and Anuradha Singla

Reporters

JCC

Arab:

Anshika Sethi

Pranvi Singh

Israel:

Bhawna Rana

Aditi Jain

Security Council:

Jhanvi Anand

Tamanna Singhal

Ecosoc:

Jahnvi Katyal

Niharika Soni

General Assembly:

Aishwarya Sethi

Mrudul Madaan

Samriddhi Sanga

GA- Specol:

Divya Garg

Shreya Garg

Photographers:

Shubh

Palak Arora

Priyanka Jain

Mani Mkahija

Jagjot Singh

Rishabh Jain

Dhruv Aggarwal

Caricaturists:

Divanshi Dhingra

Rahul Aggarwal

Anurag Saini

The Innovation Team and the Troll-masters:

Harsh Anand

Harshit Batra

Faith Goyal

Pratik Anand

Purujit Bansal

Shubham Gajra